

Special Education Teacher

MACS is looking for a Special Education Teacher to join our team of educators. This position will be responsible for teaching groups of students with mild or moderate disabilities, modifying existing curriculum on basic subjects (e.g. math, writing) to meet each student's learning requirements and build individual lesson plans tailored to their specific needs. Ultimately, you will help and inspire children to achieve important learning milestones.

This person will also discuss with parents, teachers and support staff about important matters that might impede students' progress, schedule timely team meetings and facilitate them.

Responsibilities

- Assess students' abilities and craft teaching plans
- Adapt learning materials to students' needs
- Keep track of and reflect on students' progress
- Monitor children's behavioral patterns and arrange appropriate interventions if needed
- Find engaging activities to teach skills
- Manage classroom behaviors and expectations in line with school mission and vision
- Prepare students for transition to the next grade
- Inform parents about their children's performance and potential problems
- Coach/mentor other professionals who work with children with disabilities
- Collaborate with the support staff (e.g. school counselors and speech therapists) to create holistic intervention plans
- Embrace and participate in the MicroSociety model (training is available for all new staff)

Requirements

- Proven experience as a Special Education Teacher or relevant role
- Good knowledge of current special education topics and methodologies
- Experience working with children with a wide range of disabilities
- Ability to create IEPs and measurable goals and report out on progress
- Ability and/or experience administering and scoring assessments
- A patient, resourceful, and resilient personality
- Excellent interpersonal and communication skills
- Valid NH state special education certificate
- Minimum of a bachelor's degree in Special Education
